

Jawad Almodawi
ESL 220, Sec 002
Leah Keys Stahl
Descriptive ¶, Draft 2
June 16, 2011

Descriptive Paragraph

^{or day?}
Bride in the night of her wedding looks like an open rose in the garden full of flowers or the bright moon illuminating the darkness of night or shining star in middle of sky full of stars.

^{Art.} Lovely smell spread all over the wedding room like a ^{fragrant flower} garden full of ^{and} fragrant flowers or like the smell of fresh sea breeze in ^{on a} quiet and beautiful morning. In the morning of the wedding day you will hear the singing of the birds like the sound of music, ^{in the morning's} passion and love music. And you will hear the voice of fresh air which is compatible with the beautiful melody of birds. People starts to gather as if they came to watch the moon, they gather around one table as they were a bevy describe the setting more clearly of birds. It is time and the place became quiet even you can hear the clock pointer. The bride began to walk into the bridal throne. When the bride began to walk into the bridal throne you can hear the sound of her steps like a beats of the happy heart. She count her steps like a small child ^{how} just started to walk for the first time ^{on the street}. She looks like an angel walking on ^{Art.} earth in beautiful white dress and you almost can not see her face from the intensity of pleasure as a shining sun. She arrived to the bridal throne and she in the top of a pleasure and almost fly of joy. Bridal throne looks like a gateway for her future and her ring as a ticket for her ^{into the time of marriage} journey in the future. Journey full of entertainment, and fun, love and passion and it could take a lot of time. When you see the bride and groom you can see the meaning of true love and real ^{and} happiness. You can see a young life has just begun into the future to start building a future in the height of her power. On the night of the wedding, the life began for both of them, they are

^{it's a}

This idea should be in the topic sentence or should be the main idea for the ¶ still in the prime of their youth. ~~This night is filled with happiness, happiness than can not be~~

~~described with words but it is the most beautiful nights in their life.~~

Jawad Almodawi
ESL 220, Sec 002
Leah Keys Stahl
Expository ¶, Draft 2
June 16, 2011

Expository Paragraph

The marriage is one of the most important values of life and marriage is an essential factor for building a civilized and sophisticated society, and free from the negatives. Marriage has a significant impact on the community and the more of married people in the community the more of good environment to develop and far from the crime, problems, and diseases. In this era, and with increasing the number of problems resulting from the economic crisis and the spread of crimes of assault and rape, drugs and diseases caused by such acts, we can say that marriage would eliminate these problems or is being used to reduce the rate significantly. Marriage adds to a man or a woman a lot of new commitments and new jobs, a person who is married will focused and interest more in matters of life and they will takes a longer time to think about any decision and that because he has a purpose in life Helps him to think before doing something. Sense of responsibility will help to think properly and carefully before making the right decision and that what is missing in a single person because the feels responsible to themselves only and usually they made a hasty decision. Young people have tremendous power and in the absence of a suitable environment it will discharge this energy in mindless acts and this is what causes the deviation and then the problems start to emerge. In the married community would be less number of crimes, rape and, assault and that everyone will be responsible for his family and he will be afraid on them and he will protected them from explain instead of repeat this idea explain these 2 general ideas (commitment & responsibility in the rest of the ¶) repetitive anything. With the decrease in these crimes and assaults would be appropriate for the community to develop.

For example, when there are people in the neighborhood are not married and unemployed, there will be a lot of problems and harassment because they do not have anything holding them of doing these problems, but when these people are married they will start searching for any work to secure a living for the family and the provision of security will be more and more because everyone is afraid and wants to protect his family and this will limit the negative aspects and will raise the positive aspects.

needs detailed explanation.

like what?
give some examples of what you mean.